

Genetically Modified Organisms (Control of Release) Ordinance

(Cap.607) is now in effect

Under the Ordinance, any person who knowingly grows unapproved genetically modified crops in a field commits an offense.

To protect the local biodiversity, growers should avoid planting seeds or other propagation materials (e.g. tuber and rhizome) obtained from the imported agricultural produce of unknown sources and purchase seeds or seedlings from reputable suppliers.

Enquiries

Biodiversity Conservation Division
Agriculture, Fisheries and Conservation Department

Tel.: 2150 6918 Fax: 2314 2802

E-mail: biosafety@afcd.gov.hk

GMOs Register: <http://www.afcd.gov.hk/gmo>

漁農自然護理署
Agriculture, Fisheries and Conservation Department

December 2012